CLINICAL ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP AND POLICY

DESCRIPTION OF JOB

The University of Florida College of Education invites applications for a Clinical Assistant Professor of Educational Leadership and Policy to join the Educational Leadership program area in the School of Human Development and Organizational Studies in Education. The Educational Leadership program is committed to furthering research and professional preparation that promotes equity and improved educational outcomes through innovative policy and dynamic leadership. The Educational Leadership program includes PhD, EdD, EdS, and MEd degree programs as well as a graduate concentration in education policy.

Through this search, we seek an innovating colleague who will contribute to this mission through exemplary teaching, mentoring, service, and scholarship, broadly defined. The successful candidate will demonstrate commitment to effective preparation of future school leaders through evidence of effective leadership and instructional success. We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship include a focus on principal preparation, leadership development, and social justice leadership and who demonstrate a commitment to equity in their work. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses and mentor students in our top-ranked, online MEd program, which leads to eligibility for Florida Level 1 administrator certification and may also contribute to teaching in master’s, specialist, doctoral programs on-campus and online.

The University of Florida’s Educational Leadership program is nationally ranked and includes the top ranked online master’s in educational leadership degree. The successful candidate will join a dynamic faculty whose research and teaching are nationally renowned. The new hire will have opportunities to affiliate with campus partners including UF’s Education Policy Research Center (www.ufedpolicy.org).
This 12-month non-tenure accruing faculty appointment will begin August 2022 (earlier summer start date negotiable). The position’s teaching assignment is the equivalent of 4 courses a semester for fall and spring, and 2 courses in the summer. Salary is negotiable, competitive, and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

More information on UF’s Educational Leadership program can be found at: https://education.ufl.edu/educational-leadership/

QUALIFICATIONS

Required Qualifications

- An earned doctorate in education leadership/administration or a closely related field awarded by the time of hire
- Evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, and inclusion.
- A track record of successful leadership of PK-12 educational organizations as a principal, superintendent, or other leadership position

Preferred Qualifications

- Prior experience with online or hybrid instruction as an instructor
- Demonstrated track record of research productivity in educational leadership or related field
- Familiarity with Florida Principal Leadership Standards and/or National Educational Leadership Preparation Standards
- Experience working with and in diverse educational settings
- Proven ability to ground teaching and/or scholarship in social, cultural, and historical contexts

HOW TO APPLY

For more details on the position and to apply, please visit: https://facultyjobs.hr.ufl.edu/posting/99136

Review of applications will begin January 3rd. Questions about this position should be directed to Dr. F. Chris Curran (chriscurran@coe.ufl.edu), search committee chair and leader of the Educational Leadership program.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff.